

ALTERNATIVE ENERGY SERIES

MEG-GEO Geothermal Turbine Trainer

Geothermal energy is a renewable and sustainable power source that come from heat generated by the earth. The Megatech geothermal trainer shows students how thermal activity is used to generate electricity via a turbine, just as production wells use this source in geothermal power plants.

The trainer has multiple gauges for DC power (voltage and current) and several outputs for harnessing the electricity produced. Pressure relief and controls are mounted for safety.

